

vidaXL orders sold to consumers

For orders sold by vidaXL, there is a trial period of 30 days. The trial period starts on the day you receive your order. Within the next 30 days you can look at the product, judge and try it – just like you would in a normal store, unless stated otherwise. You can return the product without providing a reason, if the product is complete and, as far as reasonably possible, in original condition and packaging.

In case the product is damaged, dirty or incomplete due to the use of the product during the trial period, you are responsible for the depreciation of the article, and a percentage of your refund will be charged.

Excluded from the right of withdrawal are products which are not suitable for return for reasons of health protection or hygiene, and of which the seal has been broken. You must indicate within the 30-day trial period that you wish to return your order. After providing this notification, you have another 30 days to return the product to us.

Our returns procedure is free of charge, if you follow our returns procedure to the letter. How you can return your order depends on the product. After registering your return, we will send you the return instructions.

We will refund the full purchase amount as soon as possible and at the latest within 14 days of dissolution, using the same means of payment (as far as technically possible) you originally used to make the purchase.

You can easily register your return via your vidaXL account in the overview of your orders under “My orders”, there you can use the button “Return”.

You can also start a web chat with us to start your return procedure.

Or click here to request a return via our digital withdrawal form. We will then start the return procedure for you.

If you don't want to use our returns service, you can also send back the product yourself. The costs incurred for this will not be reimbursed by vidaXL.
